Sumptuous Brunch for Two: Four Seasons Biltmore

In writing about the legendary Sunday brunch at The Biltmore in Santa Barbara, The Los Angeles Times once said of the menu, "The sheer number of choices is daunting." But we know you're up to it! After your sumptuous dining experience, you and your guest can enjoy a leisurely stroll through the lush grounds of The Biltmore or along the magnificent shoreline in front of this historic hotel. This gift certificate, generously donated by Anacapa mom Sonja Winter, provides brunch for two. Tax and gratuity included, but alcoholic beverages are NOT included. Reservations required on a space-available basis. Valid through February 28, 2014. Some holidays / special events blacked out.

Open-Water Scuba Course for Two With Santa Barbara Scuba

The Santa Barbara Channel is one of the world's top spots for scuba diving. There's an incredible diversity of marine life, and many species are found nowhere else on our planet. Many divers from all over the world head out into the waters off our coast -- and you and a partner can, too! Come explore the kelp forests and shallow reefs along our coastline. Learn how to have fun and be safe. You'll be in good hands throughout this adventure for two with expert instruction from the qualified and experienced divers at Santa Barbara Scuba (owned by Anacapa parents Lacy and Michael Taylor, who made this generous donation). Includes books and scuba rentals. Students must provide their own mask, snorkel, fins, boots, and gloves. Expires March 31, 2014.

Join the Latest Water Craze With Your Very Own Stand-Up Paddle Board and Customized Paddle

From Maui to the East Coast, paddle boarding is the fastest-growing water sport in the country. It's a great family activity that brings the generations together for fun and fitness. Young and old, accomplished athletes, and weekend warriors all across the country are catching waves in a new way -- or "walking on water" in lakes and rivers. The 11'0" Wide All Rounder stand-up paddle board from Paddle Surf Hawaii (PSH) is an excellent entry-level board for stand-up paddlers transitioning from a longer high-performance board to a shorter, looser model. The wider nose also makes the board more forgiving when taking off on a wave. The top bidder will take the board home today. Please bring the paddle to the BlueLine shop for sizing and handle gluing. Welcome to the world of SUP!

Premiere Custom-Built Lodge on the South Fork of the Pristine Snake River

Located on a prime spot on the Snake River in Swan Valley, Idaho, just over the breathtaking Teton Pass from Jackson Hole, Wyoming, this five-bedroom, four-bath, custom-built and beautifully appointed lodge boasts 3,000 square feet of indoor living space and a 1,000-square foot deck. Every room has a view of the river, and majestic Mt. Baldy is also a sight to behold! During your ONE-WEEK stay, gather in the huge great room for conversation and family fun, cook up a storm in the top-end kitchen, build a fire in all three of the rock fireplaces, and enjoy the views from the master bedroom's covered porch and balcony. But as amazing as this lovely home (generously donated today by Anacapa parents Marc and Lynda Baxis) is, it always comes down to the river and the great outdoors! With 800 feet of river frontage on 12 beautiful acres, this lodge is a paradise for those who love to fish and commune with nature. If you are a fly fisherman, this is truly nirvana. The river is home to native cutthroat, lunger German browns, and acrobatic rainbows. Launch a boat from our gently sloping banks or have a river guide pick you up right outside. Any number of world-class guides from the area can assist you on a fishing trip. If fishing is not your thing, then maybe being able to almost reach up and touch the stars of the Milky Way will be an awe-inspiring experience, and wildlife sightings are almost assured on a daily basis! Whatever it is, you will remember this place. And, of course, you'll have bragging rights that you stayed near the famed South Fork Lodge owned by Mark Rockefeller. Very convenient to airports in Idaho Falls and Jackson. Family reunion? Four couples? Two families? A group of parent/child fishermen? A getaway with old friends from college? Please note that this is a non-smoking property. Subject to availability. Blackout dates: June 15-August 30 and the Thanksgiving and Christmas/New Year holidays. The best times away from crowds are spring and September-November, especially for fish. Expires 4/15/14.

Property can be viewed on VRBO.com #130922 for in-depth information.

Classic Organic Farm Tour for Ten

Nature's true tastes and fresh-picked nutrition are available daily at the Classic Organic Farm & Market, owned and operated by Helmut Klauer, a classic organic farmer. A variety of lettuces, tomatoes, carrots, watermelons, strawberries, cucumbers, winter and summer squash, peppers, fennel, spinach, asparagus, onions, garlic, and pumpkins are just a sampling of the many crops grown in season. Homestead Orchard fruit, kitchen herbs, and organically produced eggs are also available. As one reviewer on Yelp described it, "It's a beautiful place where happy farm animals live, lots of crop diversity happens, a contented black cat guards the place, one can go berry and tomato picking, and payment is done by the honor system. Have I died and gone to farm heaven? What's more, the farm is set on some beautiful property. It's as the world should be." Farmer Helmut Klauer offers this two-hour tour for up to ten people, so gather your family and friends and head out to the Old Coast Highway in Gaviota for a simply delicious day. Purchases in the market's barn are not included.
